

Ladies and Gentlemen, start your calculators.

Do the math. You know how expensive it is to win consistently in your spec class. And how much you shell out for crashes and “re-shelling.” And how much time and money you spend to just keep your car competitive. Are we having fun yet? Maybe it’s time to ask...

Is your racing insanely fun? Or just insane?

Ever wonder why the Spec Racer[®] crowd seems to be having so much fun? That’s because, well, they are. One reason — they race at the smallest costs to stay competitive, in time and money, across all road racing classes. The other is the racing itself. It’s every bit as intense as it looks. Talk to us today. Don’t forget your calculator.
